

Georgia O'Keeffe Museum Art & Leadership Program Now Accepting Applications

Rising sixth grade students in Santa Fe and surrounding areas can apply for the program

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE–FEBRUARY 20, 2024 (Santa Fe, NM)– The Georgia O'Keeffe Museum is pleased to announce applications for the Art & Leadership Program are open to all rising sixth grade students in Santa Fe and its surrounding communities. Students at public, private, charter, and Bureau of Indian Education schools, as well as homeschooled children, from across Northern New Mexico, are encouraged to apply for the summer program.

Now in its 26th year, the Art & Leadership Program is free for participants, who are also provided daily breakfast, lunch, and snacks. Students attend a two-week session Monday through Friday, from 9:00 AM-5:00 PM in June and/or July, with a celebratory Art Show held in the first week of August.

"We are excited to open Art & Leadership registration and welcome new students into such an impactful program," said Grace Almanza, School and Tour Programs Manager for the Museum. "Annual field trips to Ghost Ranch and O'Keeffe's Home & Studio in Abiquiú are on the schedule again, along with new activities in different art techniques including block printing and ceramics. These hands-on and experiential activities make for two truly unforgettable weeks for our participants."

Created as a homage to Georgia O'Keeffe's lifelong passion for education and learning, the Art & Leadership program is a three-year summer program that begins in the summer after fifth grade. Students are then invited back to participate in the Art & Leadership Program every summer until they graduate eighth grade. The program is designed to target middle school youth and address the gap in artistic development between elementary and high school.

Participants learn collectively with a focus on independent thinking, building self-esteem, and strengthening self-respect. Museum staff, program leaders, interns, and teaching artists lead the program, offering children an oasis of positive support and encouragement.

Applications are now available on the Georgia O'Keeffe Museum website for rising sixth-graders to complete. The deadline for applications is May 1. Questions about the Art & Leadership program can be sent to ALinfo@gokm.org.

The Art & Leadership Program is generously funded by Century Bank, Kappa Delta Foundation, New Mexico Arts, a division of the Department of Cultural Affairs, and by the National Endowment for the Arts.
